BrainRental-Lab was founded by CHU, KEVIN and ROGER in 2012. The trio majored in Industrial and Product Design at Hong Kong Polytechnic University, sharing a passion for art, design and illustrations from two-dimensional to three-dimensional objects. Inspired by the absurdities of modern Hong Kong metropolitan life, they formed BrainRental-Lab to transfuse these perceptions by creating and experimenting with ironic and humorous concepts to ignite curiosity in the minds of their audience.

Candy Bird is a renowned street artist from Taiwan and has been creating mural artworks throughout the streets of his home country. His artworks draw on his observations of the culture and lifestyles of people in the cities of Japan, Germany, Brazil and Myanmar, using his unique style to generate new interpretations and response amongst the audience. Through his artworks, Candy Bird reveals his own philosophy and perception of the world, even touching on societal issues such as the hierarchical system and the struggles of abandoned minorities and people struggling in oppressive systems.

CEET is a regular artist-in-residence at the vast paradisiacal art estate in Marrakech called "Jardin Rouge". His work has been exhibited in galleries around Asia and Europe, including China, Hong Kong, Singapore, France, Belgium, and Austria.

He is a prolific artist and has experimented with different media, using acrylics, oil paint, pens, markers, metal paints and sprays more familiar to street artists. The result is a richly textured and saturated surface which successfully evokes emotions of endearment and fun in his vibrant canvases.

In one of CEET's art pieces he humanizes a chicken to portray emotions and personalities. Through his colourful and humorous approach, this chicken represents how modern society is bringing up "followers" who are afraid to stand out as individuals and "chicken-out".
